PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Growing research is confirming saffron, a highly prized herb, has a therapeutic role in supporting digestion, balancing homocysteine levels, reducing inflammation and more. It is a natural support for neurotransmitters, which modulate various bodily functions. Saffron has also been found to have GABA-like effects, which assists in relieving feelings of anxiety and has been clinically proven to help manage stress while supporting mood balance.

AOR ADVANTAGE

AOR's saffron is a pure, standardized extract sourced from Iran, and derived from a proprietary process that extracts the main active compounds of the stigma of saffron flowers without causing oxidative damage.
